Christopher Durr, JD, MBA, CRPC, is an independent financial planner with LPL Financial. Chris has over fifteen years of experience working with individuals and businesses in the areas of financial and legal planning. A native of St. Louis, Chris received his bachelor degree from Duke University in Durham, NC, and law degree from the University of Michigan Law School in Ann Arbor, MI. In addition, he has an MBA degree from the University of Missouri - Columbia, where he taught undergraduate business students in the area of business law.

While no longer actively practicing law, he is a licensed attorney who formerly practiced law with two large law firms in the areas of business litigation, financial restructuring and reorganization planning. He is also a member of the Elder Law and Trust and Probate Committees of the Missouri Bar.

Chris began his career as a financial consultant with the now defunct firm of A.G. Edwards. He holds the designation Chartered Retirement Planning Counselor from the College for Financial Planning. In 2010, seeking to serve his clients and recognizing the value of independence, Chris joined LPL Financial, which is the #1 independent broker/dealer in the United States as reported by Financial Planning magazine, June 1996 – 2010, based on total revenue.

Chris is married and he and his wife Heidi have a three year old daughter Sydney.